

CHATEAU LA MISSION HAUT-BRION

Château La Mission Haut-Brion 1994

Château La Mission Haut-Brion's tasting notes :

It has a good color that so far has not evolved overly much. The nose, slightly closed right now, gives a rather linear impression of firm, hard fruit lacking richness. In the mouth the wine divulges more than did the nose as its complexity surges to the forefront. The finale evolves slowly and finishes slightly abruptly on notes of cigar, cedar wood and rather dry blackcurrant. This wine merits several years of supplementary aging as it does have a very good structure.

To taste now.

Current vintage notes

As in 1993, this vintage is characterised by its early ripening due to the very mild winter. A quite cold and humid Spring slowed down the vegetation a little. Summer was hot with several thunderstorms. The evenness of the flowering was also evident during the ripening. Some Rainfall in September accelerated the picking of a generally sound and well-ripened harvest.
